1. What is a Baby Name Report?

2. How is the baby's name selected?

The exact date, time, and location of the baby's birth are recorded on the birth chart, which is examined to determine the baby's name. To choose the best initial syllable or letter for a name, astrological elements including the baby's Rashi (zodiac sign), Nakshatra (moon constellation), and the positions of important planets are taken into account.

3. Why should I choose an astrologically aligned name for my baby?
